To the Citizens of San Andreas -

After careful consideration and at the request of one Br. Gov. Jeremy, you can have Ft. Zancudo. All of it. Citizens may apply for permits from the state government to use Zancudo Airfield for events, picnics, or whatever legally passes as culture down there. Pilots may use the airfield under your SAFA regulations, assuming anyone reads those.

At this point, San Andreas has more illegal street races than school graduations, and if I had a dollar for every cult in Los Santos alone, I could fund three moon landings and a national barbeque. Let me note this is not an endorsement of the way things are going down there. In fact it's clear San Andreas wants autonomy, so use this opportunity wisely. Turn Zancudo Airfield into something special. Or don't. Honestly, I've set my expectations low and expect to be disappointed.
