FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

San Andreas – Matt Murdank condemns political violence, invites opponents to join

Matt Murdank held a press conference today condemning political violence in all its forms and encouraging a free and fair election in San Andreas. He announced today that in the three hours since he filed his candidacy for Governor, there had already been two attacks on his life. Each set of attackers told him directly that they had been hired to hurt him to convince him to drop out of the race for Governor.

Murdank is a well-known and experienced civil rights attorney in San Andreas, with a record that includes successful criminal defense cases, civil rights cases against the various police departments that have existed in the state, and even civil rights cases against the Public Defender's Office and the Federal Marshals Service. Murdank is one of the Managing Partners of Hunt & OHagen, LLP, the premier law firm of San Andreas.

"Hate has no home here," said Murdank, the managing partner of the firm. "Justice should not be suppressed by terror. We must stand for our values; bravery, not cowardice, is the appropriate response to terrorists."

Murdank called for all those running for Governor to join him in condemning political violence.
